PREPARED BY: Brendon Freeman, Executive Officer

MEETING DATE: August 3, 2020

SUBJECT: Countywide Update on Housing and General Plans

LAFCO's adopted Strategic Plan 2018-2022 includes the following core guiding principles related to general plans and housing:

- Engagement with local city/town general plan updates
- Active with local agencies in managing housing growth and related issues including transportation

BACKGROUND

This report is for information purposes only and provides an update on implementation of the Strategic Plan principles listed above. A summary is included of current and planned activities relating to each local land use authority's General Plan. Charts are included for each jurisdiction's required Annual Housing Progress Report. This information will support the Commission's future decision-making as it relates to encouraging logical and orderly growth and development throughout Napa County.

State law recognizes the vital role local governments play in the supply and affordability of housing. Each local government in California is required to adopt a Housing Element as part of its General Plan that shows how the community plans to meet the existing and projected housing needs of people at all income levels. Government Code Section 65400 mandates that certain cities and all 58 counties submit an annual report on the status of the General Plan and progress in its implementation to their legislative bodies, the Governor's Office of Planning and Research (OPR), and the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) by April 1 of each year. Only charter cities are exempt from the requirement to prepare Annual Progress Reports unless the charter stipulates otherwise (Government Code Section 65700).

Regional Housing Need Allocation

The Regional Housing Need Allocation (RHNA) is the state-mandated process to identify the total number of housing units by affordability level that each jurisdiction must accommodate in its General Plan Housing Element. As part of this process, HCD identifies the total housing need for the San Francisco Bay Area for an eight-year period. The Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) and the Metropolitan Transportation Commission (MTC) develop a methodology to distribute this need to local governments consistent with Sustainable Communities Strategies. Once a local government has received its final RHNA, it must revise its Housing Element to demonstrate how it plans to accommodate its portion of the region's housing need.

Certain actions related to RHNAs are required of the local land use authorities, and certain other actions are strictly advisory. Specifically, jurisdictions are required to zone a sufficient amount of land to accommodate their respective RHNA totals. However, it is only advised that each of these agencies issue housing permits to accommodate their respective RHNA totals.

For the Bay Area, the "projection period", or the time period for which the Regional Housing Need is calculated, is 2014 to 2022. The "planning period", or the timeframe between the due date for one Housing Element and the due date for the next Housing Element, is 2015 to 2023.

Cost of Housing

As of May 2020, the median sale price for a home in Napa County was $710,000 (0.4% increase from the prior year) according to the Annual Historical Data Summary published by the California Association of Realtors (May 2020).

Average monthly rents in Napa County were $2,514 according to Crown Realty Property Management owner Randy Gularte. Staff reviewed online sources to determine average rentals broken down by one- and two-bedroom apartments. One-bedroom apartments were $1,935 on average (3.7% decrease from the prior year) and two-bedroom apartments were $2,367 on average (a 6.6% decrease from the prior year) according to RentJungle.com.

The cost of housing is difficult to project in the foreseeable future due to uncertainties related to the economic and social impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic. There are two conflicting forces influencing real estate markets. Spending more time in one's home, especially with the prospect of prolonged telework over many months, may increase demand for larger homes with more amenities. During an economic contraction, however, workers face uncertainty over their next paycheck and demand for houses typically decreases. In addition, there are significant practical difficulties associated with searching for a new home during a pandemic. However, "urban flight" is occurring from San Francisco because of the significant increase in telecommuting. Numerous corporations are shifting their workforce to permanent telecommuting and "work from anywhere" arrangements which provide even more flexibility in where workers reside. The need to live in the City, or to be in commute distance to an office in the City, is diminishing. The result may be more pressure for housing in counties such as Napa.

Median Household Income

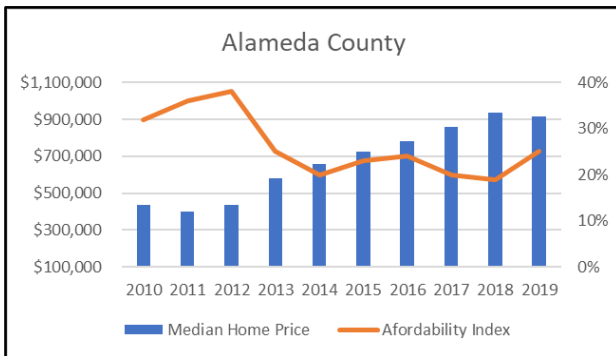

The United States Census Bureau American Community Survey reports the annual median household income for Napa County residents was $84,753 (6.4% increase from the prior year) based on five-year estimates from 2014 to 2018. The high cost of housing in Napa County places significant pressure on households earning less than the median income.

Affordability Index

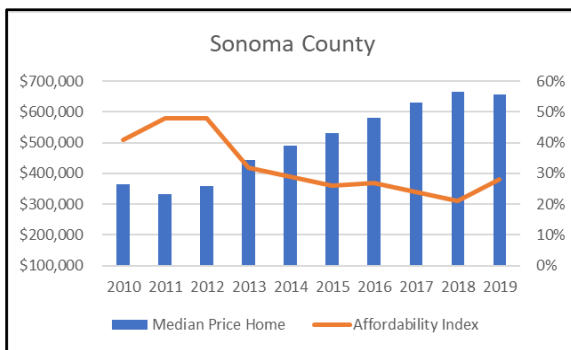

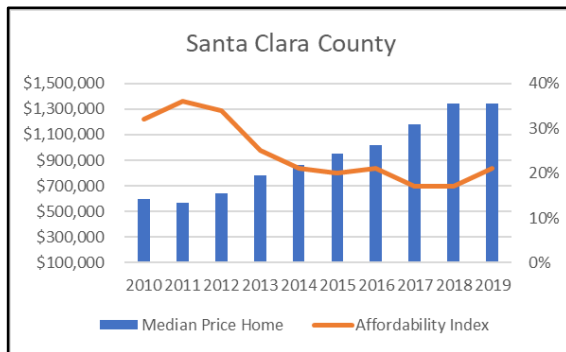

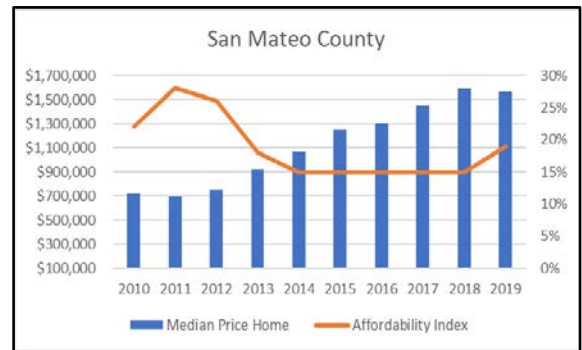

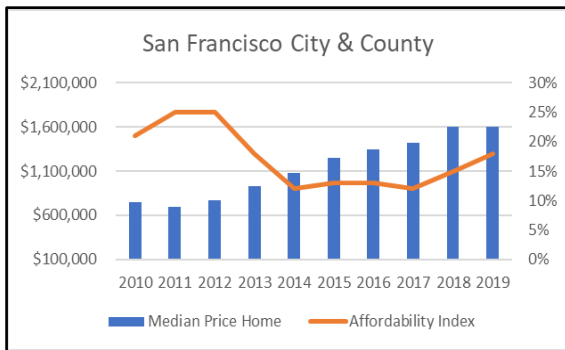

The California Association of Realtors has developed an affordability index.¹ The purpose of the index is to determine the percentage of households who can afford to purchase a median-priced home. The data is available by county and region.

In 2019, only 29 percent of Napa households could afford to buy a median-priced home of $710,000. At one point during the period between 2009-2011, after home prices dropped by 32.2% in 2008, nearly half of Napa households could have purchased a median-priced home of $360,000.

The following charts provide a comparison of Napa County versus the other Bay Area counties' median price home affordability.

¹ The methodology to determine the “affordability index” includes factors such as median home price, down payment, interest rate, monthly payment (principal, interest, taxes and insurance) at no more than 30% of household income and income distribution figures.

California In Crisis

The October 2017 Northern California wildfires burned nearly 100,000 acres and destroyed approximately 650 homes in Napa County, representing approximately five percent of the total housing stock and exacerbating an existing housing shortage. The majority of the homes were located in the unincorporated area. Napa County continues to rebuild as efficiently as possible based on available resources and building conditions. The rebuilding process represents a measurable impact on Napa County’s ability to meet its RHNA.

In 2019 California Governor Gavin Newsom emphasized the housing crisis in California as a focus of the current administration. However, in 2020 the pandemic and police violence protests have caused a shift in priorities for the Governor’s office. This shift in priorities has also been reflected in legislative action. At this time, the focus of the State decision makers is on the health care system, fire prevention and response, police reform and the economic impacts of the pandemic.

ABAG and MTC

ABAG and MTC have developed an initiative, called “Horizon”, to explore the pressing issues and possible challenges Bay Area residents may face through 2050. Part of the initiative includes “CASA – the Committee to House the Bay Area”. CASA has recommended policies to address the housing crisis. The Local Government Working Group, comprised of local government officials, was convened to advise MTC and ABAG on housing-related bills. County Supervisor and Alternate LAFCO Commissioner Ryan Gregory serves on the Working Group along with City Councilmembers Mary Luros (City of Napa) and Anna Chouteau (City of St. Helena).

Senate Bill 35

Senate Bill (SB) 35 was signed by the Governor in 2017 and created a streamlined, ministerial approval process for infill developments in localities that have failed to meet their RHNA numbers.² HCD provides an interactive map to determine which jurisdictions are subject to SB 35.

SUMMARY

Each city and county is required submit an Annual Housing Element Progress Report to HCD by April 1. These reports provide updates on each jurisdiction’s 2015-2023 RHNA and total number of housing permits issued during the current planning period. The following tables summarize the 2015-2023 RHNA and permits issued from 2015 through 2019 at each income level for the six local land use authorities.

Napa County

	Very Low	Low	Moderate	Above Moderate	Total
RHNA (2015-2023)	51	30	32	67	180
Permits Issued (2015-2019)	4	3	47	77	131

Since the adoption of Napa County’s current General Plan in 2008, the County has maintained a comprehensive list of implementation action items. The overarching theme of the General Plan is a long-standing commitment to preservation of agricultural lands for agricultural uses, with emphasis to work with the cities and town of Napa County to direct urban growth toward urban areas. The County has put great effort into promoting and supporting housing development within the cities, town, and unincorporated urbanized areas of Napa County. The County continues to update its various General Plan Elements on an ongoing basis.

² When jurisdictions have insufficient progress toward their Above Moderate income RHNA and/or have not submitted the most recent Annual Progress Report, these jurisdictions are subject to SB 35 streamlining for proposed developments with at least 10% affordability (does not apply to any local jurisdictions according to HCD). When jurisdictions have insufficient progress toward their Very Low and Low income RHNA, but have made sufficient progress toward their Above Moderate income RHNA, these jurisdictions are subject to SB 35 streamlining for proposed developments with at least 50% affordability (applies to Napa County, City of Napa, City of St. Helena, and Town of Yountville according to HCD).
